'With age comes wisdom and experience – both hard lessons which money can't buy.'

Peter Snelson

Peter Snelson has 48 years experience in construction, building, buying, and selling property. He has operated mainly in London, although he has owned companies internationally in Montenegro and Thailand, where he lived for periods.

He is the founder, owner, and CEO of 30 Day Extensions, a niche fast-build, high-quality extension and construction company. Search engines and AI analysis confirm that they are the fastest-building company out of 60,000 in the UK.

The 30 Days high street shop concept recognises that, in this increasingly faceless world of frustrating digitalisation, the ability to speak directly with people remains essential. There is no substitute for face-to-face or voice-to-voice communication in construction – no more pressing option one, two, or three, or listening to tinny hold music.

Peter is also a published author, both in the UK and in Thailand. He is currently producing a mini-film adaptation of his latest novel, The Sixth Handshake, cleverly combining real actors with AI to keep costs at a sensible level. He spent six years in Thailand, where he invented, produced, and implemented his innovative floating bars on the sea concept. The photos speak for themselves. Plans are now underway to introduce this concept to Spain.
